

A stylish Concerto from Lano Carpets

A developing portfolio of products for all arenas within the contract sector has seen Lano Flooring Solutions strengthen its position in the UK and with the introduction of its latest product, Concerto, it has opened up new possibilities in commercial executive office space and meeting rooms along with high-end store interiors.

Using the same seven designs that first appeared in the mono chrome palette of Crescendo, Lano Flooring Solutions' Concerto broadens creative horizons with the introduction of brighter and bolder colours than found in its sibling, alongside a completely bespoke colour option for orders on or above 400m<sup>2</sup>. With 12 trend-leading colourways conceived to inspire specifiers and designers, Concerto provides an ideal blend of design and in-situ performance for the commercial office sector.

Manufactured using INVISTA Antron carpet fibre that provides resistance to soiling and enhanced wear performance with the added protection of Teflon for ease of maintenance, Concerto provides the performance needed for locations that would consider this high quality wilton broadloom.

Available in a four-metre width, the pile weight of 1,760gr/m<sup>2</sup> ensures that Concerto achieves a Heavy Commercial rating under EN 1307 making it ideal for reception areas and general spaces as well as the more luxurious demands of meeting rooms.

Francis Debrabandere, UK Sales Manager, delves further into Lano Flooring Solutions' new range:

"The stunning looks of Crescendo proved popular among designers and specifiers, but they often asked if the designs were available in further colour combinations. With Concerto we have answered their needs with 12 colourways that retain the stunning aesthetics of its sibling, but with a more usable scope of tones for the majority of interiors.

"However, should specifiers and designers really be looking for a truly individual answer for their office interior, then Concerto can be produced in any colour of their choice on orders over 400m<sup>2</sup>. This allows for complete creative freedom and takes wilton carpets to a new level of design."
